

The logo for 'Which?' is a red square with the word 'Which?' in white, bold, sans-serif font.

Ordinary Member application form

Your application form to become an Ordinary Member of the Consumers' Association

Post this form to: Freepost WHICH? LTD

You can call us with any Ordinary Member related queries on 029 2267 0000.

Your full name:

Address:

.....

.....

Postcode:

Telephone no:

Mobile no:

Email:

Note: The email address you provide here will replace any email address we currently hold for you, so all future emails will be sent to this address.

Your Which? membership number:

Your details will be kept on our register. We'll use your details to get in touch with you to invite you to the AGM, send you our Annual and Interim Reviews, and keep you posted on what's going on with governance.

1. Do you want your address to appear on the register of members, or would you rather use the Consumers' Association's address (2 Marylebone Road, London NW1 4DF) instead?

If people want to write to you, like another Ordinary Member wanting to tell you about their new idea to shape the future of Which?, they can find your address from the register.

If you choose to use the Consumers' Association's address for your entry on the register, we'll forward any letters you get to your address, and still send you correspondence from us directly.

Tick this box if you do want the Consumers' Association's address to appear on the register of members instead of your own personal address. If you don't tick the box, your personal address will appear on the register.

2. Can we give other Ordinary Members your name, email and personal address, so they can ask you for support to stand for election to the Council of the Consumers' Association?

Any Ordinary Member can stand for election to the Council. They may request details of other members so they can ask for their support and nomination.

Tick this box if you do want us to make your name, email and personal address available to Ordinary Members who want to stand for election to the Council.

3. Can we email, rather than post, the AGM Notice, Interim and Annual Report and Council election ballot papers?

Tick this box if you do want us to email, rather than post, AGM Notice, Interim and Annual Report and Council election ballot papers.

About your Ordinary Membership

The basis on which you are an Ordinary Member is set out in the Articles of Association. If your subscription payment is unpaid for a period of 30 days from the date on which it becomes due, you will cease to be an Ordinary Member.

The way we're set up means that, when you become an Ordinary Member, you're agreeing to pay 50p at most if the Consumers' Association ever gets wound up.

If you no longer want to be an Ordinary Member just let us know at any time.

Get more from Which?

Please don't miss out on other communications that may matter to you. Let us know how else to get in touch about our other work.

Please keep me updated about products and services from the Which? Group* by:

Email	Yes <input type="checkbox"/>	No <input type="checkbox"/>
Post	Yes <input type="checkbox"/>	No <input type="checkbox"/>
Phone call	Yes <input type="checkbox"/>	No <input type="checkbox"/>
Text message (SMS)	Yes <input type="checkbox"/>	No <input type="checkbox"/>

We will process your details in accordance with our Privacy Notice which can be viewed on our website.

*The Which? Group comprises Which? Limited, Which? Financial Services Limited and The Consumers' Association.

Sign here to apply to become an Ordinary Member of the Consumers' Association

Signed: Date:.....